CUTTING THROUGH COMPLEXITY TO CREATE LASTING IMPACT FOR OUR CLIENTS

The world around us keeps evolving at an unprecedented pace. Scientific breakthroughs, technological shifts, escalating conflicts, and sudden events with far-reaching ripple effects are reshaping how we live and work. These geopolitical and societal changes are challenging our routines and require constant adaptation. We are navigating a complex, often confusing, and rapidly changing environment.

The international cooperation sector needs actors who can cut through this complexity: who can respond to a wide range of challenges with a variety of skills, who are flexible, and who can pool their strengths and quickly mobilise synergies.

GFA GROUP is exactly such an actor. Nine companies have joined forces under our umbrella to form a globally active coalition. Together, we deliver tailor-made solutions for the pressing issues of our time – helping to improve lives around the world.

The expertise of our member companies and their professional networks of experts range from social infrastructure to energy transition and financing, climate adaptation and digital innovation, responsible mining and mineral sourcing, and sustainability certification. A strong mix in turbulent times!

In 2025, we have reorganised the group of companies and strengthened our cohesion – externally through a new, unified brand design and joint website, and internally by reinforcing the role of GFA Holding. As the parent company, GFA Holding will steer the strategic development of the group and provide centralised services to all members.
